THE ANGELICAN 1973
Our Lady of the Angels Academy
Enfield, Connecticut

“Maynard Gull, you have the freedom to be yourself, your true self, here and now, and nothing can stand in your way. It is the Law of the Great Gull, the Law that Is.”

“Are you saying I can fly?”

“I say you are free.”

As simply and as quickly as that Kirk Maynard Gull spread his wings, effortlessly, and lifted into the dark night air. The Flock was roused from sleep by his cry, as loud as he could scream it, from five hundred feet up: “I can fly! Listen! I CAN FLY!”

Jonathan Livingston Seagull

Sister Mary Landeline

Every man of us has all the centuries in him.

John Morley

President

Sister Mary Dulcine

The living man who does not learn, is dark, dark like one walking in the night.

Unknown

Principal

Sister Mary Angelica

If I can stop one heart from breaking, I shall not live in vain: If I can ease one life the aching, Or cool one pain, Or help one fainting robin unto his nest again, I shall not live in vain.

Emily Dickinson

Secretary; Personal Typing

Sister Mary Doloria

Come up! Higher! Come up! Up! Up here with Apollo and me!

Don Marquis

English

Sister Mary Malvina

There are single thoughts that contain the essence of a whole volume, single sentences that have the beauties of a large work.

Joseph Joubert

Sister Sophia Wanda

But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears, Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in the house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Sam Walter Foss

Guidance Counselor, History

Sister Mary Evelyn

Then let me pluck the flowers that blow,
And let me listen as I go

To music rare
That fills the air;
And let hereafter
Songs and laughter
Fill every pause along the way.

French, Music

Eva Rose York

Sister Constance Marie

It's really a wonder that I haven't dropped all my ideals, because they seem so absurd and impossible to carry out. Yet I keep them, because in spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart.

Anne Frank

English, Journalism

Sister Mary Antonia

I shall not pass this way again.
Any good thing that I can do, let me do it now.
Let me not defer it or neglect it.
For, I shall not pass this way again.

Spanish, crafts

Stephen Grellet

Sister Mary Carol

You have to practice and see the real . . . , the good in everyone of them, and to help them see it in themselves. That's what I mean by love.

Richard Bach

Mathematics, Science

Sister Michele Marie

I shall call the pebble dare . . .
And when we both have had enough . . .
I shall take him from my shoe singing Meet your new road . . .

Godspell

Religion

Sister Jacqueline Mary

Thousands of little kids, and nobody's around—nobody big, I mean—except me. And I'm standing on the edge of some crazy cliff. What I have to do, I have to catch everybody if they start to go over the cliff—I mean if they're running and they don't look where they're going I have to come out from somewhere and catch them.

Catcher in the Rye
J.D. Salinger

Mathematics, Psychology, Anthropology

Sister Mary Bernadette

The whole difference between construction and creation is exactly this: That a thing constructed can only be loved after it is constructed; but a thing created is loved before it exists.

Charles Dickens

Science

Mrs. Jeanne Krochalis

No man can reveal to you aught but that which already lies half asleep in the dawning of your knowledge.

The teacher who walks in the shadow of the temple, among his followers, gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and his lovingness.

If he is indeed wise he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.

When I was a freshman I spoke as a freshman,
I felt as a freshman, I thought as a freshman.

Moons and Junes and ferris wheels,
The dizzy dancing way you feel,
As every fairy tale comes true,
I've looked at love that way,
But now big sisters at our sides,
Are someone in whom we confide.
They give to us their time and care,
We give to them our love.
I've looked at love from both sides now,
From give and take and still somehow It's love's illusions I recall;
I really don't know love at all.

When I was a sophomore . . .
I thought as a sophomore.

a junior . . .
a junior.

A black and white photograph of a coastal landscape. In the foreground, there is a sandy beach with some sparse vegetation. In the middle ground, there is a line of trees and bushes. In the background, the ocean is visible with a single bird in flight. The sky is a uniform light gray.

Now I am a senior and I must put away
the things of my past.

With all the powers of your body concentrated in the hand on the tiller, All the powers of your mind concentrated on the goal beyond the horizon,
You laugh as the salt spray catches your face in the second of rest
Before a new wave— . . .

It is my fervent hope that my whole life on this earth will ever be . . . tears and laughter. . . tears that purify my heart and reveal to me the secret of life . . . and its mystery . . . laughter that brings me closer to my fellow men . . . tears with which I join the brokenhearted . . . laughter that symbolizes joy over my very existence. I would not exchange the laughter of my heart . . . for the fortunes of the multitude . . . nor would I be content with converting my tears . . . invited by my agonized self . . . into calm.

Kahlil Gibran

Kathy Gleason

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.

Henry David Thoreau

Lorraine Piccoli

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us

You wouldn't be able to live with it Take it from one who's tried.

Bob Dylan

Maureen Dowden

But I who wished to read the books of the world and the book of my own nature, did presume to despise the letters and signs. I called the world of appearances, illusion. I called my eyes and tongue, chance. Now it is over; I have awakened. I have indeed awakened. I have only been born today.

The words you spoke ignited me.
For in that pledge
My soul found its direction.
I no longer
remained a skeptic.
And we shared bliss repeatedly
And we gladdened each other, until I found that the words you uttered most recently made me become just another branch on the tree of your memories.
Again my soul seeks truth,
And a skeptic I remain.
